Global Health in the SRPC - Dialogue Around our Role in Health Equity and Generalism

From International to Global, Rural to Equity? Working on threading the needle together. At the last SRPC Council the International Committee's name was changed to Global Health Committee reflecting a change in intent. This intent is keeping a strong rural perspective while looking for synergy in other areas in the health system including international health equity work, marginalised and disadvantaged urban populations and First Nations health to name a few. We hope to be able to connect with interested rural docs to help shape next steps in not trying to boil the ocean and find areas of work that have a bi-directional value proposition. Opportunities that have been suggested include putting our shoulder to the Generalism Movement globally to specific projects in urban or internationally disadvantaged communities
