LEADING RESUSCITATION REMOTELY VIA TELEHEALTH

Remote communities have the highest burden of illness and often do not have access to physicians services locally. Many services can be provided via telehealth including leading resuscitation. This session will include tips on how to be more effective at leading resuscitation remotely via telehealth and will be followed by a hand-on session for the lucky volunteer/s. It will include a demo of how to do ultrasound remotely as part of video-resuscitation.

1. Enhance ability to use Telehealth to lead resuscitation remotely
